Economic Empowerment for Women

A Business of One's own business and empowerment training program
17 programs throughout the country

277 women participated
80% graduated (222 women)
72% have businesses at the end of the program (160)
64% registered their businesses by the end of the program (102)
12 programs were in Hebrew and 5 in Arabic.

Seven programs in the center and south: Beit Shemesh, Rishon Lezion (two programs), Ofakim, Sderot, Jerusalem and Ramat Gan.

Ten programs in the north: Haifa and Acco (joint Jewish and Arab), Cabri, Tamra, Nazareth, Arara, Daburiya, Touran, Afula and Ha'or Haganuz.

All Participant's self-esteem and motivation to become economically self-reliant increased. Women report they believe in themselves and feel they have the personal and professional tools to generate income on their way to economic independence.

Site visits Six visits were held throughout the country for graduates of our programs in Haifa, Acco, Rishon Lezion, Cabri, Jerusalem and Ofakim. The women visited businesses owned by past EEW graduates who serve as role models and shared their challenges and success.

Financial orientation courses were run in Jaffa, Rishon Lezion, Daburiya and Ha'or Ha'ganuz. The participants learned basic financial terms and tools necessary when beginning and running a business such as banking, insurance, pension, loans, cash flow, monitoring expenses and income.

Business marathons took place in Tel Aviv in Haifa. Both focused on Story telling for businesses and included inspiring workshops and lectures on the topic, as well as a networking workshop.

Business forums for businesswomen took place in Be'er Sheva and Kiriyat Ata. The participants received tool on how to develop their businesses focusing on marketing and networking.

Partnerships with local municipalities, government sponsored business centers, local community centers and welfare and education NGO's.

Visits from the Jewish federation of Pittsburgh, Miami, St. Louis and new Jersey, as well as the mayor of Washington DC and her delegation and a delegation from China, came to learn about our work.
